

1. Generalities

1.A.) When the User launches the app, they will be on the homepage.

Directions	Expected Behavior	True/False
Launch the application.	The application displays the "Homepage".

1.B.) When the User minimizes the app and then re-opens the app without closing the app, they will be on the last screen and/or interface they were on.

Directions	Expected Behavior	True/False
Launch the application. Press the Plus Button. Minimize the application. Re-open the application.	The application opens with the "Add Habit" interface partially covering the "Homepage".
Launch the application. Press the Plus Button. Close the application. Re-launch the application.	The application displays the "Homepage"

1.C.) The app will display its name on the top bar.

Directions	Expected Behavior	True/False
Launch the application.	The top bar of the application displays the application's name.
Press on the hamburger button, press on "Settings"	The top bar of the application continues to display the application's name.
Press on the hamburger button, press on "Manage Habits"	The top bar of the application continues to display the application's name.
Press on the hamburger button, press on "Habit History"	The top bar of the application continues to display the application's name.

1.D.) The app will be locked to portrait mode, unless explicitly noted otherwise.

Directions	Expected Behavior	True/False
Launch the application.	The application is in Portrait mode.
Rotate the device 90* to the right.	The application remains in Portrait mode.
Rotate the device 180* to the left.	The application remains in Portrait mode.

2. Homepage

2.A.) The “Homepage” will display a line graph showing User scores over the last 7 days

Directions	Expected Behavior	True/False
Launch the application.	The “Homepage” is displayed.
	There is a 7-day line graph displaying User daily scores.

2.B.) There will be a circular button with a plus sign centered in it on the “Homepage”, hereafter referred to as the plus button.

Directions	Expected Behavior	True/False
Launch the application.	Centered horizontally at the bottom of the screen is a circular button.
	The above described button has a plus sign centered in it.

2.B.c.) When the User clicks on the plus button on the homepage, they will be taken to the “Record Habit” interface.

See 2.B. for a definition of the “Plus Button”.

Directions	Expected Behavior	True/False
Launch the application. Press the “Plus Button”	The “Add Habit” interface partially covers the screen.

2.C.) The “Homepage” will display the User’s current daily score.

Directions	Expected Behavior	True/False
Launch the application.	The User’s daily score is displayed on the “Homepage”.

2.D.) [pending]

Directions	Expected Behavior	True/False

3. Extended Graph Screen

2.A.a.) Clicking on the graph [on the Homepage] will take the user to the “Extended Graph” screen.

3.A.) The “Extended Graph” screen will automatically rotate and lock to landscape mode.

3.B.) The “Extended Graph” screen will display a line graph showing User scores over the last 30 days.

3.C.) There will be a back button on the “Extended Graph” screen, which will take Users back to the “Homepage”.

Directions	Expected Behavior	True/False
Launch the application.	The app is in Portrait mode.
	There is a 7-day graph.
Click on the graph.	The User is taken to a new screen.
Observe the screen.	The application is now in Landscape mode.
	There is a 30-day graph.
	There is a back button.
Click the back button.	The User is taken back to the “Homepage”.

4. Record Habit Interface

4.A.) The “Record Habit” interface will be a pop-up that partially covers the “Homepage” screen.

4.B.) The “Record Habit” interface will have a prompt across the top of the interface.

4.B.a.) The prompt will display “Record A Habit”.

4.C.) The “Record Habit” interface will allow the User to record the habits they have completed.

The “Plus Button” is a circular button with a plus sign centered in it.

Directions	Expected Behavior	True/False
Launch the application.	The app opens to the “Homepage”.
Navigate to the “Manage Habits” screen.	There is an option to add new habits.
Add a habit to start, called “Jog 30 minutes”, and set it as a 4 importance.	Upon saving the habit, the User is returned to the “Manage Habits” screen.
Add a habit to stop, called “TV, more than 1 hour”, and set it as a 2 importance.	Upon saving the habit, the User is returned to the “Manage Habits” screen.
Navigate back to the “Homepage”	There is a “Plus Button” on the bottom-center of the screen.
Press the “Plus Button”. Record the time separately.	The “Record Habit” interface partially covers the “Homepage” screen.
Observe the interface.	Across the top of the interface is the prompt “Record A Habit”.
Observe the date field	There is a field to input the date.
	The date defaults to the current date.
	There is a calendar button on the screen.
	There is a time field.
	The time field displays the time as of when you pressed the "Plus Button".

Press the calendar button.	A calendar pop-up appears.
Select 1 day before the current date.	The pop-up closes.
	The correct date is displayed in the date field.
Press the calendar button. And select today's date.	The pop-up closes.
	The correct date is displayed in the date field.
Observe the screen	There is a dropdown menu.
Click the dropdown	Two habits are listed: "Jog 30 minutes" and "TV, more than 1 hour".
Select "TV, more than 1 hour"	The display habit is "TV, more than 1 hour".
Set the time to 1 hour and 20 minutes before your recorded time.	The displayed time is 1 hour, 20 minutes before your recorded time.
Click the save button	The "Record Habit" interface closes.
	The User is returned to the "Homepage".
	The graph displays the change in score for the previous day.
Press the "Plus Button". Record the time separately.	The "Record Habit" interface partially covers the "Homepage" screen.
Observe the interface.	Across the top of the interface is the prompt "Record A Habit".
Observe the date field	There is a field to input the date.
	The date defaults to the current date.

	There is a calendar button on the screen.
	There is a time field.
	The time field displays the time as of when you pressed the "Plus Button".
Observe the date field.	The field defaults to today's date.
Select the date field, set the date to 2 before the current date.	The correct date is displayed
Observe the screen	There is a dropdown menu.
Click the dropdown	Two habits are listed: "Jog 30 minutes" and "TV, more than 1 hour".
Select "Jog 30 minutes"	The display habit is "Jog 30 minutes".
Click the "save" button	The "Record Habit" interface closes.
	The User is returned to the "Homepage".
	The graph displays the change in score for the previous day.
Navigate to the "Habit History" screen.	The habit "Jog 30 minutes" is recorded for 2 days prior, with the correct score.
	The habit "TV, more than 1 hour" is recorded for today, with the correct score.

4.E.) The "Record Habit" interface will have a "Cancel" button.

Directions	Expected Behavior	True/False
Launch the application.	The app opens to the

	"Homepage".
Navigate to the "Manage Habits" screen.	There is an option to add new habits.
Add a habit to start, called "Jog 60 minutes", and set it as a 3 importance.	Upon saving the habit, the User is returned to the "Manage Habits" screen.
Navigate back to the "Homepage"	There is a "Plus Button" on the bottom-center of the screen.
Press the "Plus Button". Record the time separately.	The "Record Habit" interface partially covers the "Homepage" screen.
Observe the interface.	Across the top of the interface is the prompt "Record A Habit".
Observe the date field	There is a field to input the date.
	The date defaults to the current date.
	There is a calendar button on the screen.
	There is a time field.
	The time field displays the time as of when you pressed the "Plus Button".
Press the calendar button.	A calendar pop-up appears.
Select 3 days before the current date.	The pop-up closes.
	The correct date is displayed in the date field.
Press the calendar button. And select today's date.	The pop-up closes.
	The correct date is displayed in the date field.
Observe the screen	There is a dropdown menu.

Click the dropdown	Two habits are listed: "Jog 30 minutes" and "TV, more than 1 hour".
Select "Jog 60 minutes"	The display habit is "Jog 60 minutes".
Set the time to 1 hour and 20 minutes before your recorded time.	The displayed time is 1 hour, 20 minutes before your recorded time.
Click the "cancel" button	The "Record Habits" interface closes.
	The User is returned to the "homepage".
	No change is made to the graph.
Navigate to the "Habit History" screen.	"Jog 60 minutes" is not recorded as an activity from 3 days prior.

5. Navigation Panel

1.E.) There will be a "hamburger" button at the top left of each non-pop-up screen that opens a menu displaying a navigation panel.

5.A.) The "Navigation Panel" is a pop-up (ex: drawer) that partially covers the current screen.

5.B.) The "Navigation Panel" will include the following options: Home, Manage Habits, Habit History, and Settings.

The "hamburger" button references a button displayed as 3 or 4 horizontal lines, stacked vertically.

Directions	Expected Behavior	True/False
Launch the application.	There is a "hamburger" button in the top left of the displayed screen.
Press the "hamburger" button.	A navigation interface partially covers the screen.
Observe the navigation panel.	The following options are present on the navigation panel: "Home", "Manage Habits", "Habit History", and "Settings"

Select "Manage Habits".	The navigation panel closes.
	The screen transitions to the "Manage Habits" screen.
Observe the screen	There is a "hamburger" button in the top left of the displayed screen.
Press the "hamburger" button.	A navigation interface partially covers the screen.
Observe the navigation panel.	The following options are present on the navigation panel: "Home", "Manage Habits", "Habit History", and "Settings"
Select "Habit History".	The navigation panel closes.
	The screen transitions to the "Habit History" screen.
Observe the screen	There is a "hamburger" button in the top left of the displayed screen.
Press the "hamburger" button.	A navigation interface partially covers the screen.
Observe the navigation panel.	The following options are present on the navigation panel: "Home", "Manage Habits", "Habit History", and "Settings"
Select "Settings".	The navigation panel closes.
	The screen transitions to the "Settings" screen.
Observe the screen	There is a "hamburger" button in the top left of the displayed screen.
Press the "hamburger" button.	A navigation interface partially covers the screen.

Observe the navigation panel.	The following options are present on the navigation panel: "Home", "Manage Habits", "Habit History", and "Settings"
Select "Home".	The navigation panel closes.
	The screen transitions to the "Homepage" screen.
Observe the screen	There is a "hamburger" button in the top left of the displayed screen.

6. Manage Habits Screen

6.A.) The "Manage Habits" screen will display the text "Manage Habits" at the top of the screen, but below the top bar.

6.B.) The "Manage Habits" screen will display all current habits.

6.C.) The "Manage Habits" screen will include the ability to add new habits.

6.D.) The "Manage Habits" screen will include the ability to edit existing habits.

6.E.) The "Manage Habits" screen will include the ability to delete existing habits.

6.F.) When adding or editing a habit, the User will be able to assign a score to the habit.

Directions	Expected Behavior	True/False
Launch the app and navigate to the "Manage Habits" screen. Observe the screen.	The words "Manage Habits" are at the top of the screen (below the top bar).
	There is a section for displaying habits.
	There is an "add habit" button.
Record the number of displayed habits. Select the "add habit" button.	The "add habit" interface partially covers the screen.
Create a new habit: start, "Bouldering, 30 minutes", importance 2. Click save.	A new habit, "Bouldering, 30 minutes", has been added to the list of habits.

	There is 1 more habit displayed than the recorded number.
Observe “Bouldering, 30 minutes”.	There is an edit button.
	There is a delete button.
Select the edit button.	The “edit habit” interface partially covers the “Manage Habits” screen.
Observe the interface.	There is an option to change the habit’s name.
	There is an option to change the importance.
Rename the habit to “Bouldering, 1 hour”. Save the habit.	“Bouldering, 30 minutes” is no longer displayed.
	“Bouldering, 1 hour” is displayed.
	“Bouldering, 1 hour” has an importance of 2.
Select the edit button for “Bouldering, 1 hour”. Set the importance to 4. Save.	“Bouldering, 1 hour” has an importance of 4.
Select the delete button for “Bouldering, 1 hour”.	A confirmation pops-up.
Select the confirmation button.	“Bouldering, 1 hour” is no longer displayed in the “Manage Habits” screen.
	There are as many habits on the screen as are recorded.

7-10. Add Habit interface

7.A.) The “Add Habit” interface will be a pop-up that partially covers the “Manage Habits” screen.

7.B.) When the User clicks outside the bounds of the interface, the interface will close as though the “Cancel” button for that display had been pressed.

8.A.) Display 1 will display the prompt “Add A New Habit” at the top of the interface.

8.B.) Display 1 will additionally prompt the User to select whether they are creating a habit they wish to start or stop.

8.C.) Display 1 will have a “Cancel” button.

8.D.) Display 1 will have a “Next” Button.

9.A.) Display 2 will replace Display 1.

9.B.) Display 2 will prompt the User for the name of the new habit.

9.C.) Display 2 will provide a text field for the User to enter the habit’s name.

9.D.) There will be a “Cancel” button.

9.E.) There will be a “Next” button.

10.A.) Display 3 will display the new habit’s name.

10.B.) Display 3 will prompt Users to select an importance rating for their new habit.

10.C.) Below the scale, display 3 will provide an explanation for the numbers’ corresponding importances.

10.D.) Display 3 will have a “Cancel” button.

10.E.) Display 3 will have a “Finish & Save” button.

Directions	Expected Behavior	True/False
Launch the app and navigate to the “Manage Habits” screen.	There is a “Add Habit” button, centered horizontally on the bottom of the screen.
Record the number of displayed habits.	n/a	n/a
Press the “Add Habit” button.	The “Add Habit” interface partially covers the screen.
	There is an option to select “START” or “BREAK”
	There is a “Cancel” button.
	There is a “Next” button
Select “BREAK”.	The “BREAK” option provides visual feedback that it is selected.
Press the “Next” button.	The interface’s display changes to no longer display "START" and "BREAK".

	There is a "Cancel" button.
	There is a "Next" button.
	There is a prompt to name your new habit.
Enter the name "TV, 1 hour+".	The new name is displayed in the text field.
Press the "Next" button.	The new display displays the entered name.
	There is a "Cancel" button.
	There is a "Finish & Save" button.
	There is a prompt to select importance.
	There is an explanation of the "importance" range.
Select "Finish & Save".	The interface closes.
	"TV, 1 hour+" is now displayed in the list of habits.
	"TV, 1 hour+" has a score of (-3).
	There is/are [recorded + 1] habit(s) displayed in the list of habits.
Press the "Add Habit" button.	The "Add Habit" interface partially covers the screen.
	There is an option to select "START" or "BREAK"
	There is a "Cancel" button.
	There is a "Next" button
Observe the "START" button.	The "START" option provides visual feedback that it is selected.

Press the “Next” button.	The interface’s display changes to no longer display “START” and “BREAK”.
	There is a “Cancel” button.
	There is a “Next” button.
	There is a prompt to name your new habit.
Enter the name “Pull-ups”.	The new name is displayed in the text field.
Press the “Next” button.	The new display displays the entered name.
	There is a “Cancel” button.
	There is a “Finish & Save” button.
	There is a prompt to select importance.
	There is an explanation of the “importance” range.
Set the slider to “4”, and then press “Finish & Save”.	The interface closes.
	“Pull-ups” is now displayed in the list of habits.
	“TV, 1 hour+” has a score of (4).
	There are [recorded + 2] habits displayed in the list of habits.
Press the “Add Habit” button.	The “Add Habit” interface partially covers the screen.
	There is an option to select “START” or “BREAK”
	There is a “Cancel” button.
	There is a “Next” button
Select “STOP”.	The “STOP” option provides visual feedback that it is selected.

Press the “Next” button.	The interface’s display changes to no longer display “START” and “BREAK”.
	There is a “Cancel” button.
	There is a “Next” button.
	There is a prompt to name your new habit.
Enter the name “Procrastinating”.	The new name is displayed in the text field.
Press the “Cancel” button.	The interface closes.
	The habit “Procrastinating” is not displayed.
	There are [recorded + 2] habits displayed in the list of habits.

11. Edit Habit Interface

- 11.A.) The “Edit Habit” interface will display the text “Edit Habit” at the top of the interface.
- 11.B.) The “Edit Habit” interface will be a pop-up that partially covers the “Manage Habits” screen.
- 11.C.) The “Edit Habit” interface will provide the User with the ability to change the importance of the habit.
- 11.D.) The “Edit Habit” interface will provide the User with the ability to change the habit’s name.
- 11.E.) The “Edit Habit” interface will have a “Cancel” button.
- 11.F.) The “Edit Habit” interface will have a “Save” button.
- 11.G.) When the User clicks outside of the bounds of the interface, the interface will close as though the “Cancel” button had been pressed.

Directions	Expected Behavior	True/False
Launch the app and navigate	“Whistle practice” is displayed to the “Manage Habits” screen. Create a habit, “Whistle practice” with a score of (+2).	in the list of habits.

	There is an “edit” icon next to “Whistle practice”.
Press the “edit” icon.	The “Edit Habit” interface partially covers the screen.
	There is an option to rename the habit.
	There is an option to change the habit’s importance.
	There is a “Cancel” button.
	There is a “Save” button.
	The importance defaults to 2.
	The name defaults to “Whistle practice”.
Rename the habit to “Practice whistle, 30 minutes”.	The text field displays the new name.
Set importance to (5), and save.	The interface closes.
	The “Whistle practice” habit is no longer displayed in the habits list.
	“Practice whistle, 30 minutes” is displayed in the habits list.
	“Practice whistle, 30 minutes” has a score of (+5).
Press the “edit” icon next to “Practice whistle, 30 minutes”.	The “Edit Habit” interface partially covers the screen.
Change the importance to 1. Press the “Cancel” button.	The interface closes.
	“Practice whistle, 30 minutes” has a score of (+5).

12. Habit History Screen

12.A.) The “Habit History” screen will display daily accomplished habits going back at least 30 days.

12.B.) Displayed Habits will be displayed in reverse recorded order (most recent first; oldest last).

12.C.) Displayed habits will be grouped by day.

12.C.a.) Each group will display the total score for that day.

12.C.b.) Each group will display a breakdown of the score for that day.

Directions	Expected Behavior	True/False
Launch the app and navigate to the “Manage Habits” screen. Create a habit, “Running, 30 minutes”, with a score of (+2)	“Running, 30 minutes” is displayed in the habits list.
Navigate to the “Homepage”.	“Running, 30 minutes” is displayed in the todo list.
Record the current 7-day graph (ex: via a screenshot)	n/a	n/a
Press the “Plus Button”, and record “Running, 30 minutes” for 30 days before the current date, at noon.	The 7-day graph does not change.
Press the “Plus Button”, and record “Running, 30 minutes” for today, 1 hour ago.	The 7-day graph for today’s value is 2 points higher than was recorded.
Navigate to the “Habits History” screen.	“Running, 30 minutes” is recorded for 30 days in the past, at noon.
	“Running, 30 minutes” is recorded for today, 1 hour ago.

13. Settings Screen

13.A.) The “Settings” screen will have the following options:

13.A.a.) Export Data

Export Data will export “Habit History” as a CSV file to the device’s local storage.

Export Data will provide user feedback when beginning and ending its operation.

13.A.b.) Clear History

13.A.c.) Notification Settings

13.A.d.) Dark Mode

13.A.e.) Credits

Directions	Expected Behavior	True/False